JUDGE TAKES RAP AT WORKHOUSE

Two Women Escape and Some Ugly Letters Involve Certain Soldiers in Affair.

Workhouse officials were the objects of sharp criticism by Judge Martin Fleming at the Friday morning session of police court.
His honor was trying Bessie Waters and Ruby McConley, colored, on charges of loitering, vagrancy and disorderly conduct. It developed that the two offenders had escaped from the workhouse, and, according to one of them, they left the White Oak camp along with some other female prisoners. Questioning by the court brought forth the admission that no effort was made to interrupt their leave taking.
Judge Fleming's verbal attack on workhouse officials, which was launched at this juncture, was in sum and substance that statements have been appearing in the papers about Sunday schools being organized at the workhouses; that it was highly essential for the officials of these institutions to be dominated by religious influences, but that they should be efficient in the carrying out of their duties. The judge called attention to the expense incident to the arrest, trial and conviction of prisoners in referring to the escapes from the workhouse and said that there would be efficiency if the officials of these institutions would pay more attention to their business.

Bessie Waters and Ruby McConley were arrested by provost guards, and, in connection with the apprehension of the women, numerous letters and photographs were taken to the office of Capt. Kenneth E. Kern, chief of the provost guard.
It was brought out at the trial that these letters had been written by soldiers and that there was obscene matter in them.
Capt. Kern stated Friday morning, when called over the telephone, that he had been called in charge of a result of the taking in charge of the letters. He further stated that two of the soldiers were sergeants, two were privates, and that two had been sergeants.
The letters, he explained, had been sent to the commanding officers of the regiments in which the soldiers were members.
He said that the soldiers involved could be charged at the court-martial hearing with sending obscene letters through the mails.
Both Bessie Waters and Ruby McConley were held to the grand jury under bonds of $2,000. They were fined $50 and costs each in the city cases against them.

FRANK McMINN MADE CORPORAL

Frank McMin, one of The News soldier boys now at Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C., has been promoted to the position of corporal of Company G, 11th Infantry.
Corporal McMin was a member of the typographical force of The News and was in the first draft of soldiers sent from here to Camp Gordon. He, with others, was later transferred to Camp Sevier.
The corporal's friends here will be gratified to learn of his promotion.

TWENTY-FIVE YOUNG WOMEN INDICTED

After two days' busy session, during which something over one hundred cases were investigated, the Hamilton county grand jury late Thursday afternoon reported to Judge S. D. McReynolds in open court. Assistant Attorney-General T. Pope Shephard stated that the result of the grand jury was one of the best and most energetic that he had ever handled and that for an entirely new jury the amount of work done was something remarkable. As the result of the two days' session twenty-five young girls were indicted for vagrancy. It is understood that a large number of these will plead guilty and be sent to the White Oak camp, where a separate workhouse for women has been established. Another indictment of interest was that of A. R. Nero, charged with selling whisky. Nero is now serving a sentence of five months in the Hamilton county workhouse on the charge of selling whisky to soldiers. It will be remembered that Nero was recently summoned to appear before Judge E. T. Sanford at Knoxville and ordered to begin his sentence at once. The report of the grand jury is as follows:
True bills—Lott Keeland, Bessie Joiner, Daisy Campbell, Will Bogart, Sam Wilhoit, Will Hays, Louise Heath, Alline Buchanan, Irene Hixson, Leah Ward, Etta Shipp, Ella Dennes, Jennie Morgan, Mrs. E. D. Foiden, John Hassell, L. H. McCoy, Sam Wilhoit, Eliza Hargraves, Lula Burken, Lizzie Miller, Elizabeth Davison, Mrs. R. L. Freeman, vagrancy.
S. J. Hickman, Norman Beasley, Ridley Pryor, Ingram Brown, carrying pistol.
Ike Miller (2), T. A. Gadd, J. R. Hixson, Zinn Edmondson, Evelyn Jackson, T. A. Swanson, Evelyn Jackson, J. B. Robertson, H. P. Baker, A. M. Hearn, Will Drew, A. R. Nero, John Jackson, J. J. Jackson, T. A. Swanson, J. J. Jackson, W. D. May, Charles Deuser, Walter Cannon, John Shivers, Ollie Ayers, Jesse Cowan, Glenn Shivers, Tom Harris, R. Shipley, Isaac Miller, A. L. Ketchersid, selling liquor.
Arthur Houston, Sidney Nash, Roger Conner, John H. Hall, Jarceny, Robert Winton, Pearl Smith, felonious assault.
Arthur Houston, Jarceny.
No bills—Claude Braxell, Jarceny; John Boyle, vagrancy; Ida Dahl, assault and battery; Clifford Anderson, Jarceny; John Pullen, attempt to rape.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY OF MALICIOUS MISCHIEF
Frank Moore was tried in the criminal court Friday morning and found not guilty of malicious mischief. He was represented by George W. Chambliss and the state by Gen. M. N. Whitaker. Moore was charged with throwing a stick in the window of a street car during the last strike. He was arrested by Capt. Harris at the corner of Ninth Street and Georgia avenue, where the offense is said to have been committed. The jury was only out a few minutes and returned a verdict of not guilty.

SAM JONES GETS CONTINUANCE

Didn't Know Grips Handed Off Train at Daisy Contained Liquor.

Sam Jones, proprietor and owner of the Beavers club, was arraigned Friday morning in the criminal court on the charge of transporting whisky. On motion of his attorney, Senator W. H. Cummings, the case was continued until next Friday morning, at which time, the court gave the defense to understand the case would be tried and no further continuance. The continuance asked for was on the grounds of absent witnesses for Jones. He stated that he wanted a man named Wrinkle from Dalton and a man named Baxter from Knoxville. He said that he had a letter from Wrinkle saying that he was sick and unable to come into court. He said he had not communicated with Baxter, but would make an effort to do so. Jones stated that when the case was called before he was not present for the reason that when he saw the docket and saw the name of Sam Jones on it he was under the impression that it was a colored Sam Jones and not him. He begged the court's pardon for not having been in court when the case was called.

Jones was arrested several weeks ago by Constable George Kirklin and Deputy Sheriff Luther Carter. He was in his automobile at a station on Southern railroad near Daisy. When the train arrived a man stepped off and started to hand Jones two grips of liquor, but the officers stepped in and the liquor was handed to them. He told the court that he started to get the grips from the men that they were coming in on the train and to meet them. He said that he did not know they had whisky and was surprised when they started to hand the liquor to him. Jones said that he merely went to meet the men as friends and had no idea that there was liquor in the grips. However, he did not explain to the court why the men got off at the station instead of coming on into the station.

It is charged that when Jones was first arrested he told the officers the man who handed them the grips and then stepped back on the train. J. C. Larimore, but later he stated that the result of a raid made on the Beavers club by Capt. Kenneth Kern, the provost guard, and Plainclothesmen Brown and Light. In the place at the time the officers made the raid was Larimore and several hundred empty bottles and five full bottles of whisky. Jones was not in the place at the time of the raid, but as he is the alleged proprietor, he was arrested later on the street in front of his place. This case will also be tried at any early date.

Nymphs.....Fannies, Suffragettes, Knights and Ladies, Roses, Fiddlers Three, Imps and Snowdrops.
The first performance of the "Wishing Ring" was given last night at the Junior High school before a large and appreciative audience. From the time the curtain rose until its final descent there was not a dull moment. The play abounded in tuneful music, sparkling comedy and is beautifully costumed. The young men and ladies of the Junior High school who took the parts of the king and queen in the play of the King of Hearts made one of the prettiest scenes of the performance. The Snowdrops, who were little girls, showed the careful training in their parts which was a feature of the show and speaks highly for the ability of Raymond A. Dreyer, director, who has been laboring so faithfully during the past three weeks. It is a characteristic feature of this drilling that it was done with such never-failing courtesy of the director. The musical feature of the evening was the duet between Mistress Mary (Genevieve McCue) and Tom-Tom (Rev. Geo. A. Gay). "Ask the Flowers to Tell You," "A Little Girl at Home," another duet, sung by Bo-Peep (Lucille Manning) and the Knave of Hearts (Walter B. Head), and the quartet, "Our Farm," sung by Mistress Mary, Tom-Tom, Bo-Peep and the Knave of Hearts, also proved features.
"Jean" and "Allan," parts taken by Hicks Workman and Francis Wood.

CALL WORKERS FOR NATION'S SHIPYARDS

The drive for volunteer shipyard workers was given a new impetus yesterday by the report of the sinking of a transport carrying American soldiers to the battle front.
In order to combat the U-boat menace, shipbuilding in this country must be speeded up, but the lack of workers is retarding progress.
In a telegram received by The News from Edward N. Hurley, chairman U. S. shipping board, Washington, D. C., the request is made to publish a call for volunteers. Those who are willing to go to the aid of the government in the shipyards are notified to write at once to Mr. Hurley, giving their name, address and occupation. Full instructions as to how to enroll will be sent to each man sending in his name.

were performed with an ease that was especially commendable.

The comedy parts were taken by Florence K. Currier as Marjorie Daw; J. Frank Price, as Simple Simon; Edgar T. Williams, as the Plemman; Edgar L. Payne, as Mrs. Jack Spratt, and Leonard Pickard, as Jack Spratt. When these characters were on the stage there was not a dull moment. The Suffragettes, led by Mrs. Pumpkin Eater, were enthusiastic in their efforts to get votes for women and as far as Story-Book Land is concerned, were successful. Their appeal is made before the King and Queen of Hearts, who heartily respond.

King Cole (E. J. Savoy) and his fiddlers three were a feature of the evening, especially the musical number rendered by the famed fiddlers. Mother Goose (Fannie Belle Vernoy) filled the hearts of the youngsters with joy by her motherly attitude toward the two little mortals who had wandered into Story-Book Land, notwithstanding the stern proclamation made public by the King's Messenger (John Holmes), in which which she was assisted by the dream fairy, Moonbeam (Lucille Manning).
The menagerie part of "Story-Book Land" was portrayed by Simple Simon's pet mule, "Geraldine" (Gus S. Currier).
Those who witnessed the initial performance were loud in their praise of the finished nature of the evening's entertainment.

COULDN'T GET ALL OF HIS WITNESSES

James Craft, colored, was arraigned in criminal court Friday morning on the charge of manslaughter. On motion, however, of his attorney, J. B. Vance, Jr., the case was continued until next Thursday. The attorney said he had witnesses to prove that his client did not commit the offense, but that another negro did and he could produce proof to that effect.
Craft, who drives an automobile for another negro, is charged with running down and killing 5-year-old Ethel Pierce on Cowart street in the 100 block. It is charged that at the time the accident occurred Craft was running at the rate of twenty-five or thirty miles an hour. The accident happened on Oct. 13 last and the little girl died Sunday morning, Oct. 15. It is stated that at the time of the accident Craft was on the wrong side of the street.

Rheumatism's Pangs Multiply With Winter's Icy Blasts

Torture Is Worst in Severest Weather.

Soon you will begin to reach for the liniment bottle, just as you did all last winter, and begin to rub the painful parts, seeking relief from the pangs of Rheumatism, which your own experience has taught you can only be temporary.

Why not throw away your liniments and other external applications and get down to a sensible and rational treatment, which is bound to get results?
Rheumatism is a disordered condition of the blood and is best treated through the blood. And cannot reach the blood by external applications to the surface. Your liniments may temporarily relieve the pain, but a cure can only be had by removing the condition that causes the pain. Investigate the record of S. S. S., the great blood remedy, that has done so much for those afflicted with Rheumatism. This remedy thoroughly cleanses the blood of every trace of impurity, and in this way removes the cause of Rheumatism. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today at any drugstore, and start on the road to real and genuine relief. Then if you want any information regarding your case, write all your symptoms to our chief medical adviser, who will give them careful study, and advise special directions, without cost. Address Swift Specific Company, B-235, Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)
